THE LONGWORTHS TOUR EAST MAUI

Visit the Great Crater of Haleakala, Encircle East Maui, See the Rubber Plantations and Picturesque Keanae.

SELLS LIQUOR WITHOUT A LICENSE.

Jap at Camp Five Carries Large Stock of Liquors and Sells same to Thirsty Porto Rican.—Native Committed for Rape.

MAKAWAO LINES.

On Saturday the 24th, the Longworth party consisting of Hon. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Miss Alice MacFarlane, and A. L. C. Atkinson, and Harry MacFarlane after breakfast at the H. P. Baldwin's Punnene came to Makawao by automobile.

They visited the cannery and the pineapple plantations at Haiku and took lunch at Maluhia.

Later they departed for Olinda House, the mountain home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baldwin of Hamakua. Here they were joined by W. O. Aiken of Makawao who acted as guide for the East Maui trip.

At about 1 o'clock A. M. Sunday morning the party of six with two servants started for the summit of Haleakala reaching it about 5 o'clock. Fine views of the greatest crater in the world were obtained.

The journey around the crater's rim down the sandy entrance and over the crater's floor though somewhat tedious proved most interesting.

Sunday night was spent at Kaupo and on Monday the party reached Hana and spent the night there.

On Monday the Kaupo palis were crossed and lunch taken at the house of Ah Ping, the manager of Kipahulu plantation. On Monday night the party were entertained by manager Chalmers of Kaeleku plantation at Hana.

On Tuesday lunch was eaten at Keanae and the night spent at W. F. Pogue's residence, Kailua.

During this day from Hana via Nahiku to Keanae, it was rainy, the only unpleasant weather of the trip.

On Tuesday, Keanae was reached and Wednesday morning saw the completion of the circuit at Makawao.

On Wednesday after a short rest at W. O. Aiken's, Makawao, the party took the train at Paia for Wailuku where the members of it were entertained at an elaborate luncheon by Hon. and Mrs. A. N. Kepoikai.

The afternoon was spent in beautiful Iao Valley and at 5 P. M. the visitors embarked on the Claudine for Honolulu.

In speaking of Haleakala, East Maui trip, the Longworths could not say too much in compliment of the beautiful scenery, stating that it surpasses that of the Yellowstone Park or of any place visited by them.

Saturday evening, the 24th, a most enjoyable dancing party took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Taylor of Hamakua. The attendance was large and the weather propitious. Music was furnished by a string band.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wells will probably return to Maui in September. Mr. Wells who has been in Oakland recently has entirely recovered his health.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Henderson spent Thursday night, the 22nd, at the top of Haleakala.

Arthur McIntosh who has been making a business visit to Hawaii and Maui for the last three weeks returned to Honolulu Monday night.

George W. Wilbur, wife, and family will soon depart for California. Mr. Wilbur has for several years past most successfully managed the Kailua section of Paia plantation and has been a prominent member of the Makawao Polo Club.

Mr. Wilbur in company with his father, Roland Wilbur, will engage in the manufacturing of soda water. It is rumored that Harold Rice of Punnene will manage Kailua.

The marriage of Miss E. MacGoun of Makawao and Mr. Benj. Williams of Punnene will take place about the middle of September at the Makawao residence of Mrs. Dora MacTempsey.

Inspector of Schools C. W. Baldwin is at his parents home at Haiku.

On Tuesday, the 27th, Rev. and Mrs. Baker of Kona of Hawaii, made the ascent of Haleakala.

Miss Austin and Miss Turner are at Punnene cottage, Makawao.

The August meeting of the Makawao Literary Society took place on Friday evening, the 23rd, at the Haiku home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alexander and was largely attended. One of the most pleasing events of an interesting program was a humorous monologue by C. G. White.

Three or four inches of rain fell in portions of Makawao during Monday and Tuesday of this week.

ILLICIT LIQUOR DEALING.

Suzuki and wife were before District Magistrate McKay on Tuesday for the illicit selling of liquor.

A Porto Rican had been to their house and had bought liquor of them so he said and later told the police of the transaction.

Lieutenant of Police W. H. Rogers and officers Clement Crowell and Manuel Sequeira and the Porto Rican went to the home of the defendants where the officers secreted themselves near the house while the Porto Rican, one Juanito Reveira, went into the house of the Japanese and asked for wine.

He testified that the man told him there was no liquor in the house but that the wife asked him what he wanted and when he said he wanted wine and that he had money to pay for it she took two quarter dollars from him and filled two bottles of wine. He drank a glass from one of the bottles and then pretended to accidentally drop the glass which was a pre arranged signal that he had bought the wine and that he had paid for the same.

The police were at the door at the time and immediately rushed into the house and arrested the woman and the man.

One of the officers had seen the Porto Rican give the money to the woman and had seen her put the money on a sewing machine. As the money had been previously marked by the officers and they had searched the Porto Rican before he went into the house and as too they found but three twenty five cent pieces in the house and two were marked as those they had given the Porto Rican they had no difficulty in identifying the money in the possession of the woman.

She admitted she had sold the wine to the Porto Rican and had received the money for the same but the man denied having had anything to do with the transaction.

In the house the police found five three gallon demijohns full of wine, eighteen bottles of saki and a bag of bottles of liquor. There were probably about forty five bottles of liquor in the bag which was not opened.

The attorney for the defendants put on no witnesses for the defendants but moved the discharge of the man as there was but little evidence against him. The motion was granted so far as he was concerned and he was discharged.

The attorney for the defendants then tried to get the woman off on a technicality but in this he was unsuccessful and the Court fined the woman $1.50. An appeal was noted.

A number of people commented on the fact that many officers and members of the Kahului Wholesale and Liquor Company were present throughout the trial. Whether they were there solely in their individual capacity through friendship for the defendants is not known.

COMMITTED FOR RAPE.

Kema Maikai of Waihee was before District Magistrate McKay Tuesday of this week to answer to the charge of committing rape upon the person of a little child of Waihee. No evidence was put on in his defence and he was bound over to appear before the Grand Jury in the October term.

Bail was fixed by the court at $500 which was furnished.
